It's finally time! Team Padsing is fighting this Saturday in Tulsa, Oklahoma. The hard work is now complete and Jerick is ready to make a statement. He wants to show how hard he's worked and the improvements he's made from his first fight. "Hard work pays off" is the quote Jerick loves to reassure himself with every time. Coach Pablo has been working around the clock getting this fight ready and also training Jerick to be 110% ready all the time. The team is ready and excited to get the job done.

We'd like to thank everyone for their continuous support and prayers. Also a big thank you to the Filipino community here in Las Vegas, Filipinos all across the world, and boxing fans in general, thank you for your love and support. Don't forget to follow us on any social media platforms especially on Instagram just by searching "Jerick Padsing" and get the latest updates of anything Team Padsing is up to.
